Esmer House

Esmer House is a Prader-Willi syndrome residential care home, providing 24-hour support to meet the needs of people living with the condition.

Our specialist home benefits from six bedrooms spread across two floors, alongside plenty of communal spaces, such as a large lounge, kitchen-diner and a spacious back garden!

Esmer House is in a great location, just a short walk from our local leisure centre where the people we support take part in activities of their choice - such as fitness classes, badminton and tennis. We can also take advantage of nearby Sherwood Forest and amenities in Mansfield, such as a cinema, trampoline centre and snooker hall.

Although there is no cure for Prader-Willi syndrome, our goal is to help the people we support to lead healthy, fulfilling lives with care from a team who understand their condition.

A place to call home

Esmer House is perfect for individuals looking for a modern home with friendly and sociable housemates.

Our bedrooms have access to two shared bathrooms, one of which has a wet room shower.

The people we support enjoy spending time outside or reclining on the sofa watching movies on our huge TV!

Our service also has a heated cabin in the back garden, which is often used for games nights or as an additional quiet space when needed.

Commitment to quality

As part of our dedication to providing tailored care for each person, we deliver Prader-Willi syndrome specific support. This specialist approach is led by our Prader-Willi syndrome professionals group, who drive continuous improvement with our team.

Our team work to the highest standards of best practice, recognising that every person with the condition has their own unique qualities, interests and challenges. This is supported by specific Prader-Willi syndrome training.
