Elliott House

Elliott House is a residential care home located in Barnsley, South Yorkshire. We provide support for up to six individuals with autism, learning disabilities, challenging behaviour, mental health needs and epilepsy.

Our home is a detached bungalow with four bedrooms, each with en-suite facilities. We also have two self-contained apartments, which have their own bedroom, bathroom, kitchen and living area - great for increased independence.

Our home also benefits from plenty of communal areas such as a lounge, fully-accessible kitchen and a lovely garden kitted with a greenhouse and patio area - perfect for relaxing in the sunshine!

Close by, we have many local amenities such as shops and restaurants! We also have our own on-site vehicle, making it easier to take the people we support out on day trips further afield, ensuring they play an active part in the community!

A place to call home

At Elliott House, we encourage the people we support to get involved in activities both in-house and out in the community!

We have great transport links to Sheffield, Rotherham, Doncaster and Leeds, and as a home, we love exploring new places together! Some of the activities we enjoy are shopping, bowling, swimming, going to the zoo, visiting the cinema and going to the beach on warmer days!

We provide dedicated one-to-one support and build person-centered care plans that are tailored to each individual's specific needs and interests.

Our dedicated team help the people we support learn new skills - boosting their self-confidence and supporting them towards greater independence.
